Wildlife Photography

Do you enjoy nature and wildlife? Are you in tune with the natural world? Do you need inspiration? Do you need a pick-me-up from this frenetic world in which we live?

Avocet Photography is dedicated to the wonderful natural world that surrounds us all. Too often in this modern world, man has become separated from Nature and all too often exploits it.

As we can see from global warming what man does has repercussions on Nature, and everything that happens in the natural world has repercussions on man. We only have to look at the dwindling fish stocks in the world's oceans. We need to be in harmony with Nature and not exploit it. Many ancient cultures and traditions kept in harmony with Nature and the teachings of animals was remarkably similar across the cultures. Nowadays we have the benefit of modern science that should enhance those teachings not destroy them. We need to have wisdom, balance and humility when we use the scientific knowledge to understand the hidden teachings behind the world of animals.
