John D. Matrisciano, MD, FACS

"I'm honored to be able to heal and save lives. And beyond surgical excellence – developed with many years of experience and advanced training – I'm equally proud of the personal care I provide. "Surgery can be trying for any patient. The personal attention and compassion you'll find at Valley Surgical Associates can make it easier."

Steven Heslov, MD, FACS

"As a surgeon, I make a positive impact on the lives of my patients – first in terms of their health, but also in the way I help them through a tough time. Caring for people with warmth and compassion is what makes me the best surgeon I can be. I feel it makes a big difference in the quality of your care. "One of the best things I can do for you, personally, is to simply give you time and my undivided attention. I'll make sure all your questions are answered and let you know what to expect."

Maggie Kademian, MD

I became a physician because I wanted to spend my life improving the lives of others. With surgery, I get to do exactly that in a way that's deeply fulfilling. "Using my advanced skills to cure diseases and health problems is my top priority and what I enjoy most. I also love the personal side of what I do. I'm a naturally caring person, which makes me better able to serve you. When you entrust me with your surgery, I want you to feel comfortable with me and know that I have your best interests at heart. So I talk with you, listen to your concerns and respond to your needs with compassion."
